

OUR DANCE TEAM

Danny Arbour brings 25 years of experience as a highly accomplished ballroom dancer and international dancesport competitor. In both 2004 and 2005 he won the prestigious “Latin Amateur Canadian Dancesport Championship” and was the Canadian representative at the World Championships in Germany and the Czech Republic. In 2008, Danny was one of the top 10 finalists on “So You Think You Can Dance Canada.” Since 2008, he has been competing as a pro Latin dancer. Known as well for his teaching and his choreography, Danny has choreographed for So You Think You Can Dance Canada, the film “Funky Town” and CBC's “Les Dieux de la Danse.” Danny is certified by the Canadian DanceSport Federation in Latin, Standard, Rhythm, and Smooth. He is also the co owner and founder of Studio Danza, where he brings a unique mixture of technique, dedication, and fun to his teaching.

Terrilynn (“TL”) & Chris Rader

TL & Chris’ whirlwind career has taken them to over 141 cities in over 43 countries. They began teaching and performing together in 1996, and then coaching and competing all over North America. Their travels enabled them to receive training in acting, singing, and dancing from many esteemed directors and choreographers from around the world. They have travelled and performed all over the world as featured dancers on cruise ship main stages.

Their current ventures have taken them to TV! TL spent 5 years as co-host of a LIVE daily “lifestyles” talk show called Daytime Ottawa, and host of the Style File on Ottawa Living at Rogers TV Ottawa. TL & Chris together were contributors for CBC’s Living in Ottawa and BOLD Network’s Creative Block. TL has appeared on CBC's "Rick Mercer Report", as well as "Steven & Chris", and CTV Morning Live. They also produced and hosted Crystal Leaf Ballroom and Latin Dance Championships, Toronto Open Championships, and Canadance Championships on Rogers TV. Chris is consistently one of the top 10 teachers at the international Ballroom dance competition La Classique. Together with teaching, performing, competing Pro-Am and TL emceeing Ballroom Competitions, they bring their zest for life and their love of people happily into living rooms and dance floors all over Canada!

Annie Lebedeva has been dancing for more than 20 years, having trained and competed both in her native Estonia and England. Annie moved to Canada 3 years ago to share her passion for teaching and dancing. Her strength is the ability to make technique accessible to students at all levels. The joy of seeing a student progress is a personal sense of achievement and unabashed delight when they get it. Annie loves the diversity of people and helping them reach their dance goals. She is a certified member of the CDF in International Standard and Latin, and American Smooth and Rhythm and a certified competition adjudicator. Annie has also recently started competing at the professional level in Hustle. She is unstoppable and brings her curiosity, analytical mind, grace, technique and experience to each student.
