How do I get to Naples?

Most transatlantic flights arrive in Rome and this will most likely be your point of arrival, unless you are coming from somewhere else in Europe. The train is an efficient way to get from Rome to Naples, and takes approximately 2 hours. We can help you with advance ticket reservations or you can book online through Rail Europe. If you are arriving in Naples on day 1 of the trip we suggest that you arrive no later than noon for the afternoon ferry. We can arrange transportation for you from the airport to the ferry. If you are planning a pre night stay in Naples we can arrange transportation from the train to your hotel.

Ready to book?

- Call 1.888.386.2669 or 514.497.1960
- Email info@eviactive.com with any remaining questions. Please do not book flights until we have confirmed hotel availability.

- Enquire about travel insurance.
- Once you are confirmed on your Evia trip, you will receive a Confirmation Email. Then, about a month before you leave, we will send you a list of your fellow travellers, final rendezvous instructions and your hotel contact numbers.

Room Upgrade

Price is based on a superior room category. If you would like to upgrade your accommodation on this trip, please enquire at time of booking to learn cost and availability.

Extending your trip

Rome or elsewhere in Italy. Should you wish to extend your trip elsewhere in Italy we will be happy to assist. Naples is a great city and definitely worth a couple days of exploring. We suggest staying in Naples as a pre rather than post trip destination. It is one of the most populous cities in Italy, with bustling markets, great shopping, labyrinthine streets and a plethora of street vendors. There is an intense cultural tradition in the city owing to the array of people and nationalities that have crossed paths here and left their mark on the palaces, churches and piazzas.
